12-There's is a major way to load VCDS from USB to external media. As mentioned by another user, you can not use this loader to load VCDS to an external USB drive (just connect to PC and double-click on VCDS loader). But you can use this loader to load VCDS to your hard drive (by loading an external USB to hard drive) and then copy it to external USB drive (for example Windows/ portable...) or using your favorite computer to do the job (for example mac). . For loading into a hard drive you must ensure that VCDS is installed on the hard drive. And you should first unplug the USB from your PC. You also need to install VCDS to your hard drive (i.e. on your hard drive not USB) using the VCDS loader that you have copied to hard drive. But the good news is that the loaded VCDS is copy to USB drive. So you can boot your VCDS from USB drive and then load more vcds's from this USB.
