Each insect is linked to one of the OMODOS: Insects resources (book, Web, DVD, CD, cassettes). Enables your child to learn about insects in an interesting way. The Insects application is available in 4 languages (French, Spanish, English, German). Far-right candidate Marine Le Pen's campaign office has been torched in the southern French city of Marseille, with French police saying it was a criminal act. "Unfortunately, our newspaper headlines say nothing about the acts of violence that are taking place every day in our society," Le Pen told supporters in Lyon on Sunday. "But we are here to tell you, because all of our supporters are everywhere, that they are not alone in the face of these acts of violence and other excesses, and we will resist them." The headquarters of France's National Front (FN), a party founded by the recently-elected president Jean-Marie Le Pen, was torched late on Saturday by a group of masked men. Pictures published in local media showed the windowless building surrounded by heavy black smoke. Police said in a statement that the initial investigation into the incident "revealed that it was a deliberate act of arson in a public place and that it was motivated by political motives". The rear wall of the building, including part of a window, was reportedly damaged and the door was damaged by a fire extinguisher, Paris-Match reported. No arrests have yet been made. The attack came just weeks before an election in which Le Pen is trying to woo voters by focusing on issues such as the far-right's anti-immigration stance and its plans to make the euro zone's 19-strong bailout fund permanent. Le Pen, who narrowly

If you are feeling blue because you have to write a lot of essays, your deadline is close, or you just don't know what to write about, just write about yourself for a change and see what comes out of it! People today take just anything for granted! From the environment to our workplaces, we are always getting more and more. E-mailing, TV, facebook and phones are constantly getting newer and newer. Our life today is becoming more and more intense. Technology is growing and us humans are losing our fascination of nature. In this list we will look at some of the things today that we take for granted and why! 1. Airplanes We often forget how big the world really is. You can get anywhere in the world via airplane in less than a day. And airplanes are so much more and effective than walking or driving. There are more than 30,000 airplanes in the world today, and 6,000 of them are in operation at any time. 2. Electricity Nobody ever gets tired of electricity. We use it in everything from our light to our phones. Electricity is everywhere and used for almost every activity in life. 3. Prescription drugs Every day people take pain killers, antidepressants, antibiotics, and anti-inflammatories. We are so used to it, that we often don't think about it. Not too long ago, doctors used to only give a prescription if a person had a serious injury or illness. Today, the average person has a yearly bottle of prescription drugs. 4. The internet Without the internet, you would be disconnected from everyone and everything. We use
