Wellington/Flagstaff cross-country skiing: Birks points to Christian Muller Lewis Birks (above) of Caistor has been selected to represent the Czech Republic in the half-pipe slalom. Published: 11:00 Saturday 28 December 2013 Share this article Skiing's world championship contender has been handed a late boost, following the discovery of a new centre of excellence for cross country skiing. Lewis Birks (above) of Caistor has been selected to represent the Czech Republic in the half-pipe slalom. The 17-year-old world champion, who is currently in Spain training for the event on the 22-23 January in Erzurum, Turkey, was handed the news on Thursday morning, having been selected following the successful completion of an experimental programme at the recently opened Swingspark, a new facility which joins the established ski schools at Flagstaff, in the Dunstable Hills. Skiing UK's Head of Team Performance, Denise Sheppard, who is in Australia with the squad, has congratulated Lewis and the team, who have now begun to prepare for the Commonwealth Games in Glasgow in 2014. As part of the squad's training schedule, Lewis has been in Flagstaff for the last fortnight, competing in the Cross Country Sprint Series, and learned of his selection at the centre. Lewis said: "The guys at Swingspark have been very helpful to me, they have been more than accommodating and have given me the best place to learn. I've been enjoying it and my technique has been getting better and better." As well as learning the new techniques required, Lewis has also been working on his form with the help of the Swedish ski coach, Christoph Muller, who ran a similar programme at the Swingspark for the world champs last year. Denise said: "Lewis has learned a lot at Flagstaff and I am confident f30f4eada
